The reason for the Government ordinance which reorganized free market offerings and the prices of some basic commodities is, apart from being an attempt to draw still more money from the citizens, an attempt to increase the stocks of these commodities. According to Soviet orders given to all satellites, the stocks of basic commodities in the mobilization supply depots (augmentacni sklady) should be increased from the present one-year supply to stocks for one and a half years with the utmost speed. This fact is considered confidential and is known to Government members only.
